"BACK THE BOULEVARD" ON THE STRIP AIMS TO IMPROVE SAFETY

Commissioner Naft teamed up with Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Captain Dori Koren, volunteers, and community partners to address potential problems and safety concerns directly. Through the "Back the Boulevard" initiative and continued efforts throughout the year, LVMPD and Clark County are hoping to reduce crime, prevent human trafficking, find missing children, and help the homeless.

"With so many major events coming to our community, we must be prepared for new challenges. I will continue to work to ensure that Metro and all of the partners who came together for "Back the Boulevard" are equipped to handle those challenges," said Commissioner Michael Naft.

More than 35 community partners came out for the event to walk alongside Metro police, including Nevada Child Seekers, Clark County Social Services, and Public Works.

February featured several Valentine's Day celebrations including a luncheon at the Flamingo Senior Center and visit to Ovation on Agate. Commissioners Naft and Weekly also turned the "Welcome Sign" red in recognition of Wear Red for Women Day, the American Heart Association's signature women's initiative. Wear Red for Women, is a comprehensive platform designed to increase women's heart health awareness and serve as a catalyst for change to improve lives worldwide.

Also in February, Commissioner Naft partnered with the Clark County Fire Department for an Open House of Fire Station 21. The event was attended by hundreds of neighborhood residents who enjoyed hot dogs and learned from the dozens of organizations and County agencies in attendance. The men and women of Station 21 also demonstrated their life saving capabilities. The Clark County Fire Department hosts regular open house events to provide families the opportunity to meet our firefighters and see the vehicles and equipment they utilize first hand.

If you or your organization would like to include Commissioner Naft in an event or meeting in District A, please contact KMA@ClarkCountyNV.gov or (702) 455-3535.

UNITED STATES CENSUS HELPS ENSURE THAT SOUTHERN NEVADANS GET THEIR FAIR SHARE

"It is critical that Clark County residents complete their Census to ensure that we get our fair share of federal dollars. Funding will help us provide better infrastructure and social programs that improve our quality of life," said Commissioner Naft.

Every ten years, the US Census counts on our responses to calculate the distribution of federal funds to states. In 2020, the federal government will allocate $675 BILLION dollars to states based on Census figures. This outside funding supports vital civic needs such as schools, housing, health care and transportation right here in Southern Nevada.

The closer we come to a complete count, the more money we receive right here. We're giving our money away to other states when we don't complete our Census forms. Participation in the Census not only helps Nevada get new federal support, it keeps many important programs alive.

"It is critical that Clark County residents complete their Census to ensure that we get our fair share of federal dollars. Funding will help us provide better infrastructure and social programs that improve all of our quality of life," said Clark County Commissioner Michael Naft.

Many of our vital, ongoing civic and social programs depend on the Census for allocations of federal funds. If we fail to maximize our participation, we not only lose out on federal funding, but stand to lose dollars for programs like Medicare and Medicaid, as well as dozens of programs benefiting our schools, highways and health systems.
