Happy New Year from all of us at the Clark County Election Department! As we reflect on the successes of 2024, we are proud to share that 69% of registered voters in Clark County turned out for the General Election, surpassing the national turnout of 64%. This incredible participation highlights the dedication of our community to making their voices heard.

As we head into 2025, it's worth noting that no elections are currently scheduled for this year. However, this provides an excellent opportunity to focus on voter education and preparation for future elections.

In this edition, we explore how state constitutional amendments are passed in Nevada, provide a complete list of candidate results from the 2024 General Election, and share tips on avoiding common registration mistakes. You will also find an overview of the 2024 ballot questions and what's next, as well as a feature on our ongoing community outreach efforts.

Thank you for your continued commitment to democracy. Here's to a bright and informed start to 2025!

How an Amendment to the Nevada Constitution is Made

Have you ever noticed ballot questions beginning with “Shall the Nevada Constitution be amended...” and wondered what they mean or how they get there? Let’s explore how amendments are made, the steps involved, and what happens after voters weigh in.

What Is a Constitutional Amendment?

A constitutional amendment changes or adds to the Nevada Constitution. Basically, it updates the rules or adds new ones to guide how the state operates. Amendments can only be initiated through a formal process involving either the legislature or voters.

How Are Amendments Proposed?

Nevada allows two methods to amend its Constitution:

- 1. Legislatively Referred Amendments: Article 16 of the Nevada Constitution requires approval by the legislature in two consecutive sessions. Once approved twice, it is placed on the ballot for voter approval in a single general election. This process ensures careful consideration by lawmakers before involving voters.
- 2. Citizen-Initiated Amendments: Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution allows citizens to propose amendments by gathering petition signatures. If successful, voters must approve the amendment in two consecutive general elections—a process designed to confirm widespread public support.

What Happens After the Election?

If a ballot question is approved, legislatively referred amendments become law immediately. For example, Question 2 from last year’s election will take effect this year. However, citizen-initiated amendments require approval in two consecutive general elections to be ratified. For example, Questions 6 and 7 will appear again on the ballot in 2026. (Complete ballot question results are on page 12.) ■

Common Registration Mistakes (and How to Avoid Them)

The General Election may be over, but the Clark County Election Department is always improving the process for future elections. In that spirit, we will examine common voter registration mistakes and provide guidance to ensure your next visit to the polls goes smoothly.

Registering with a Business Address

In Nevada, you must use your residential address when registering to vote. You may register at a business address only if you genuinely reside at that location. Providing a business address as your residential address where you do not actually live can lead to challenges with voter rolls and may result in legal action. To avoid this, ensure that the residential address you use is your actual home address, as required by NRS 293.507. If you wish, you may use a business address as a separate mailing address.

Changes in Signature

If your signature has significantly changed, the Election Department is required by law to take various steps to verify your identity when you vote by mail or in person.

If your signature changes due to health or other reasons, it is recommended that you update it with the Clark County Election Department to avoid delays and ensure the smooth processing of your vote. Contact the Election Department at elinfo@ClarkCountyNV.gov or call us at (702) 455-VOTE (8683) to request a paper registration form to update your signature.

Illegible Handwriting

While there is no law rejecting registrations due to illegible handwriting, election officials must ensure that the information is verifiable. Illegible writing or typos can prevent verification, which may place voters in “active pending” status. These voters may be asked to provide additional documentation or may be required to vote in person with identification. Be sure your registration form is legible and complete to prevent any delays.

Incorrect Address

Providing an incorrect address on your voter registration form can cause issues. If non-forwardable election mail, such as a registration card, is returned because of an incorrect address, the Election Department will attempt to contact you. If you do not respond, your registration may be marked inactive, requiring you to verify your address before voting. Inactive voters may not receive mail ballots or sample ballots but can still vote in person. The National Voter Registration Act (NVRA) requires the Election Department to cancel your registration if it remains inactive and you do not vote in two consecutive federal elections. You must then re-register to vote. ■

2024 Statewide Ballot Questions: Results and the Road Ahead

Below are the county and statewide results for each statewide question, along with details on what comes next for each proposal.

Question 1. Oversight of the Nevada Board of Regents

Question 2. Disabilities Language

A “yes” vote updates the Nevada Constitution by modernizing language related to physical disabilities, removing outdated terms such as “deaf and dumb” and “insane.” It revises who benefits from state-supported entities, replaces “institutions” with “entities,” and adds support for entities serving individuals with intellectual or developmental disabilities.

PASSED

Clark County: Yes 66.5% No 33.5%

Statewide: Yes 64.4% No 35.6%

What’s Next: Per Nev. Const. Art. 19, §2, this question must win again in 2026 to amend the Nevada Constitution.

Clark County: Yes 72.8% No 27.2%

Statewide: Yes 73.2% No 26.8%
