Legal Forms in Nevada

Courts do not always provide ready-made forms for every occasion; however, several courts and agencies have prepared forms that are available online. Links to various court forms can be found on the Clark County Law Library's Legal Forms page at www.ClarkCountyNV.Gov/LawLibrary.

If a suitable form is not available on the Internet, it may be necessary to create a form using sample language. The library staff can suggest research material that may contain forms, samples, or information, but may not select specific forms or choose language for forms.

Comprehensive Forms Index – Prepared by the Clark County Law Library to provide a listing of available Nevada forms on government and agency webpages, and of sample forms in the NALS Handbook of Legal Forms. A link is provided on our homepage at www.ClarkCountyNV.Gov/LawLibrary.

Nevada Association of Legal Secretaries Handbook of Legal Forms (NALS) – Contains sample forms frequently used in Nevada Courts. Sample forms must be re-typed using the appropriate Court Styling. These forms are general in nature and language may be adjusted to fit your particular needs.

Court Styling – Court Styling refers to the required format for documents filed in a court.

Blank Pleading Paper—a Word compatible pleading template is available on our webpage and on our computers at the Law Library.

Nevada Civil Practice Manual – Covers a variety of civil practice issues and may contain explanations and sample forms for your particular issue.

Rules of Court – The court rules of procedure govern the various Nevada Courts and cover issues such as the layout of court forms, calculation of days, and appellate procedure. Whether you are a lawyer, or are representing yourself, judges will expect you to know and follow all court rules. The Nevada Court Rules are available online at www.leg.state.nv.us/Division/Legal/LawLibrary/CourtRules/index.html

Nevada Revised Statutes (NRS) – State laws may include an outline or specify information to be included in documents. The NRS are available online at www.leg.state.nv.us/law1.html

Databases – Databases at the Law Library can be searched for cases and language to be used within a legal document.

American Jurisprudence Pleading and Practice Forms – An encyclopedia of sample legal language that can be used to create legal documents.
