

SUNSET PARK PICKLEBALL COMPLEX

CHALLENGE COURT RULES

Winning partners can stay on the court with a maximum limit of 2 consecutive games.

Games will be played to 11 points, win by 1.

After playing 2 consecutive games, winners must rotate off the court if there are 2 or more paddles in the court queue. Losing Partners get priority to put their paddles back in the court queue before Winning Partners who have won 2 consecutive games.

Losing partners must rotate off the court if there are 2 or more paddles in the queue.

If winners are staying on the court and there are 2 or more paddles in the queue, then the 2 players at the top of the queue will challenge the winners.

If winners are staying on the court and there is only 1 paddle in the queue, then challenging player will team with one of the losing players.

If winners are rotating off the court and there are 4 or more paddles in the queue, then the 4 players at the top of the queue will play the next game.

If winners are rotating off the court and there are 3 paddles in the queue, then the 3 players at the top of the queue will play with one of the losing players.

Challenge courts may be used for recreational play when not being challenged. If challenged you must abide by the challenge court rules. If you choose not to accept a challenge, you must move courts.
